

MAUREEN REILLY

Maureen Reilly has over 15 years experience as a seminar leader and consultant in professional development, leadership skills and change management initiatives. She most recently developed and managed Professional Development Training for a global technical immersion training initiative that spanned Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom.

She started her own performance consulting and training services company, to focus on leading change management initiatives through team-building workshops and coaching individuals towards transforming leadership skills to all levels of an organization. She is an Associate of Consulting Resource Group International Inc. - Leadership Organization Specialists. Maureen has led personal and professional development workshops, courses and retreats for executives, investment advisors, entrepreneurs, consultants and many other professionals and individuals. In addition, she has been a motivational speaker for women and has engaged in their business and career mentoring.

She has customized personal development programs for bridging adult learners skills to full time learning environments and provided Leadership Development programs for MBA students. In addition, Royal Roads University has created a unique role for Maureen in order to provide their MBA students with individual coaching, team facilitation and conflict resolution in a virtual team environment. Her personalized approach focuses on each individual's needs and often extends ongoing support and coaching outside the classroom.

Before establishing and developing her own business, Maureen worked in the investment industry for ten years, including the Vancouver Stock Exchange and two national investment firms.

Maureen's first hand experience with all levels of training, styles of management and organizational change has helped her develop a solid foundation for understanding and leading individuals and teams in discovering their strengths, overcoming areas of difficulties and learning to work through differences in order to improve relationships and organizational performance.
